This page contains letters extricated from the front covers of 14 different albums. We ruined these perfectly good album sleeves so that you may join in the competition to name their source.

We invite you to identify and name as many as you can by artist and title. This can be done by clicking on to the Competitions page at www.thisdayinmusic.com, and then the words 'Cover Competition'. Fill in your suggestions as to the 14, get as many as you can, and you will be contacted with your results and prizes.

The competition closes on December 25th 2006, at which point all entrants will be e-mailed the results.

BRITNEY'S HITS MAKE BOSS £2bn

By IAN KING and NICOLE LAMPERT

THE tycoon behind the hits of Britney Spears was last night celebrating a £2billion payday.
Clive Calder sold his record company Zomba - which also boasts NSYNC and the Backstreet Boys - to German-owned giant BMG Music.

Mr Calder, who is credited with discovering Britney after she auditioned at his studios, started Zomba in 1975 and his first big British act was Billy Ocean.

He also released hits
for Tight Fit, ex-Page Three girl Sam Fox and the first album by cult band The Stone Roses.

Discovery... Britney

The
reclusive South African, 59, was dubbed the Howard Hughes of pop after it emerged that he has a separate air supply to his New York office because of an allergy.

An ex-workmate said:
"Clive is very quiet and unassuming - and hates publicity. Unlike most showbiz people, he's not at all flamboyant, but he has a talent for picking big stars."

"He's very quietly spoken and works very hard. He's always the first in the office and the last one out."

Death of Barry White ends a Pavarotti duet

Maurice Chittenden

THE soul singer Barry White, who died on Friday, had been planning to record a musical duet with Luciano Pavarotti, the opera singer, as part of a comeback album. White, who was 58, had been preparing to lay down tracks for an album of duets before he went into hospital last September after suffering kidney failure. He also had a stroke in May.

The velvet-voiced baritone had hoped to re-record one of his biggest hits, 'You're the First, the Last, My Everything, with the Italian tenor. Music insiders believe the sight of the so-called 'vairus of love' duetting with the colossus of opera would have provided an instant hit.

The two singers of matching physique had previously paired up for the song — with Pavarotti singing the lyrics in Italian — for a charity concert in the tenor's home town of Modena two years ago. White had since signed to make the duets record with the Def Jam label, previously best known for hip-hop artists who have largely replaced soul music in the charts.

White intended to record a series of songs with other artists including James Brown, the self-proclaimed godfather of soul, Luther Vandross, one of White's favourite singers, and Earth, Wind & Fire, a group with whom he had planned to tour.

He died at Cedars-Sinai medical centre in Los Angeles where he had been undergoing dialysis. Yesterday tributes continued to pour in for the Texas-born singer whose recordings were used by bach- elors over candlelit dinners in the 1970s before beckoning their women to the bedroom. His voice has been described as sounding like a rich chocolate cake.

When he addressed the Oxford Union debating society two years ago, the father of eight shattered his own myth by telling students that he did not make love to anybody's music, even his own. "When I hear music, it attracts me away from what I'm doing," he said.

White: planned a comeback

But his fans will have none of it. As one, calling herself only Cuzin Addie, said in a message posted on a fan website yesterday: "Never has any one music artist touched me the way he did. Every one of his songs holds a memory for me. Every one. From my first marriage to my last divorce."

ON THIS DAY

1958 The Everly Brothers held the UK No.1 position with 'All I Have To Do Is Dream'. It was the duo's first No.1 single.

1964 The Beach Boys started a two week run at No.1 on the US singles chart with 'I Get Around'. The group's first No.1. it was a No.7 hit in the UK.

1964 The Rolling Stones appeared on Juke Box Jury, making it the only time the show had five panellists rather than four.

1968 Elvis Presley donated a Rolls Royce to a Hollywood women's charity, which raised $35,000 (£20,600).

Soul Love Machine Barry White passed away on this day in 2003.

BORN ON THIS DAY

1986 Janet Jackson started a two week run at No.1 on the US album chart with Control.

1999 The Eurythmics announced their first world tour for more than ten years, stating that all profits would be given to charity. The duo made the announcement from the Greenpeace boat Rainbow Warrior, which was moored on the River Thames.

2002 it was reported that Dr. Dre had become the richest music star after earning £62 million ($105.4 million) in the last year – £37 million ($63 million) from his own earnings plus £25 million ($42.5 million) from his record label Aftermath.

2003 the Daily Star ran a front page story claiming that Manic Street Preachers guitarist Richey Edwards' body had been found. Fishermen in an angling contest discovered bones half buried in mud on the riverbank near Avonmouth. Edwards disappeared in February 1995 after his car was found at a service station at the Seven Bridge – a well-known suicide spot.

The star guests bid for Sir Elton's sandals

A PAIR of Sir Elton John's sandals were set to become the most expensive shoes in history when they went under the hammer last night.

Offers starting at £20,000 were invited for the Salvatore Ferragamo sandals at a charity ball held by the musician. Made from black satin, each shoe features a horse-shoe-shaped brooch by Chopard consisting of 480 diamonds and weighing five carats. The brooches can be detached and worn separately.

Organisers were optimistic the shoes would fetch more than the £29,800 paid in 1999 for a Swarovski-crystal studded pair once owned by Marilyn Monroe.

Among those thought to be interested in bidding were Elle Macpherson, Naomi Campbell, Anastasia and Victoria Beckham.

At the event were actress Kate Winslet and husband Jim Threapleton, taking a night off from looking after their eight-month-old baby Mia.

They were among 480 guests invited to the £1,000-a-ticket auction at Woodside – Elton's mansion in Windsor.

The event, which is held every year, raises money for his Aids Foundation.

1969 Michael Grant – keyboard player with Musical Youth, who had a 1982 UK No.1 single with 'Pass The Dutchie'.

1976 50 Cent (a.k.a. Curtis Jackson), US rapper who had a 2003 US No.1 single with 'In Da Club'. His debut album, Get Rich Or Die Tryin, was named the biggest-selling US album in 2003, going platinum six times over.

ON THIS DAY

2003 The wine Sir Cliff Richard made from his Algarve estate started a UK supermarket battle. Fans were asking all the stores when the wine would go on sale. The Tesco chain said they would be the first; in fact but the Waitrose shops had been selling the £8.49 ($14.44) a bottle red for the past week.

Sir Cliff's red wine causes a scramble

By Valerie Elliott
Consumer Editor

THE popularity of the wine Sir Cliff Richard makes from his Algarve estate has started a supermarket battle.

The second vintage of Vida Nova, or new life, red wine from the grapes of his 25-acre estate near Albufeira has caused much excitement with fans asking for months when the bottles are to go on sale.

Tesco said yesterday that the wine would go on sale this Thursday on Tesco.com "weeks ahead of every other British retailer". Waitrose, however, has been selling the wine via Waitrose Direct for a week and in selected branches since the end of last week. Single bottles are priced at £8.49.

A Tesco spokesman admitted that he must have been given false information but said that the company still expected the wine to sell as fast as the latest Harry Potter.

Stocks in Britain are limited, because a proportion of the wine, said to be more elegant than last year's, stays in Portugal to be served at leading restaurants in the Algarve. Sir Cliff also has his own allocation for his homes, including the Barbados mansion where Tony Blair and his family are to spend their summer holidays.

The wine is a blend of two Portuguese grapes, trincadeira and aragones, with shiraz.

TOP SINGLES REVIEW

BEACH BOYS WEIRDLY FASCINATING

"Heroes And Villains" / "You're Welcome" (Capitol).

YOU need to hear this disc a dozen times before you can assess all its intricate patterns—and even then, you still can't absorb everything. The opening segment harks back to the Beach Boys of old—straight out of the surfing book. But then it suddenly slows down, and switches to the most complex harmonies—with each Beach Boy seemingly weaving delicate designs around the others.

Most of the disc is without a lyric—it's a combination of scat, la-la and humming. And the only accompaniment is organ and harpsichord, with the boys orally providing their own rhythm section. Sounds like six different records strung together—which, of course, is just what it is! It's weird, but fascinating.

FLIP: For just 11 minutes, the group chants "welcome" over and over, to the backing of a tinkling celeste and big bass drum. This side's nothing but a throw-away.

The Beach Boys released 'Heroes and Villains' on this day in 1967.

1986 Prince started a run of five nights at Wembley Arena, London. It was his first UK show for five years.

1994 Woodstock '94 was held in Saugerties, New York, attended by over 350,000 fans. The festival featured Green Day, Nine Inch Nails, Aerosmith and the Red Hot Chili Peppers. Tickets cost $135.00, (£89.00).

Odds On!

Scarily enough, it's already that time of year when people are speculating as to who will top the charts come Grimbo '99. The lovely people at Ladbrokes, the betting specialists, believe the gift is strong with them, and kindly divulged who they believed were the hot favourites and rather sad cold plichards for the final singles chart of the millennium! Surprise, surprise, the Spice Girls are hot favourites again (and they haven't even definitely got a record out!)

The runners and riders are:
Spice Girls	3/1	Robbie	12/1
B*Witched	3/1	Vengaboys	16/1
Steps	7/1	Geri	25/1
Westlife	7/1	Mel C	33/1
Boyzone	7/1	Mel G	40/1
S Club	12/1	Emma	66/1
		Posh and Becks duet	100/1

Please note that the odds are subject to change and you must be at aged 18 or over to place a bet.

Dear Mr. Leshart,

I have listened again and again, to the High Numbers' white labels, taken from our test session and still cannot decide whether or not they have anything to offer.

You say, of course, in the meantime, have signed with another company, in which case, I wish you all the luck in the world. If you have not, I will be very interested to hear any other tapes you may have featuring the group.

Baby you can buy my car — 1965 McCartney Mini up for auction

By Jennifer Smith

AT FIRST glance Sir Paul McCartney's old Mini, the car he used as a transport at the height of Beatlemania, looks much like any other The Beatles' vehicle, however, it carries the pedigree of a 1965 vehicle, customised to his personal specifications. Designer used a dashboard fit for a Bentley, soundproofing, electric windows and a record player turned the Mini into a mobile record store. It is now classified in Britain as an historic vehicle. It will be auctioned next month in California for someone, who estimates that it will fetch £40,000. The vehicle is testimony to the success of the Fab Four, who were each presented with a customised Mini by their manager, Brian Epstein, as a token of thanks for their unprecedented record sales. Sir Paul's headless 'hatchback' had to enable him to transport his drums, John Lennon's was black like all his other vehicles at the time. George Harrison's was painted in psychedelic colours and was used in the 1965 Beatles film Magical Mystery Tour. Sir Paul used his to zip about the streets of London and was often seen driving from the home in St John's Wood to Friarage Hill where he liked to take his daughter, Maria, for walks. It is reputed to be the vehicle in which he drove Linda Eastman, who married him in 1969, home with him, albeit with the singer's help. Sir Paul's sage-green Mini, which sold in 1970, the year the Beatles broke up, was believed lost but a motoring enthusiast found it in Canada, repaired it and is now up for sale.

1989 Janet Jackson started a four week run at No.1 on the US album chart with Janet Jackson's Rhythm Nation 1814.

1995 Coolio scored his first UK No.1 single when his version of the Stevie Wonder song 'Gangsta's Paradise' started a two week run at the top of the charts.

1997 drummer Bill Berry announced that he was leaving R.E.M. after being a member of the group for 17 years.

2001 Mary J. Blige started a six week run at No.1 on the US singles chart with 'Family Affair'.

2001 the various artist album God Bless America went to No.1 on the US chart.

2004 Courtney Love was ordered to stand trial on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon after Kristin King told a Los Angeles court Ms Love threw a bottle and a lit candle at her after turning up at the home of a former boyfriend in the early hours. Ms King told the court Ms Love was "vicious" and "erratic" when she allegedly attacked her while she slept on a sofa on April 25. She said Ms Love then sat on her, pulled her hair and pinched her left breast — the "worst pinch I ever had" — before she managed to flee.

2003 research in the US found that songs get stuck in our heads because they create a "brain itch" that can only be scratched by repeating a tune over and over. Songs such as the Village People's 'Y.M.C.A.' and the Baha Men's 'Who Let The Dogs Out' owe their success to their ability to create a "cognitive itch", according to Professor James Kellaris of the University of Cincinnati College of Business Administration.

Dear David:

Thank you for the albums. They were most appreciated. As for Dusty's schedule she will be opening at the "Talk of the Town" on December 4th, which gives her little time in front of that date because of the rehearsals of the new act.

Upon my arrival we shall sit down and talk about her available time, which should come after December 4th. I would like her to settle in the new act.

Looking forward to seeing you.

Men and Tomorrow, and has been regularly throughout this week by the Mandelstams. It is possible the Judge will be able to play some of the later dates on the itinerary.

Meanwhile, Vanilla Fudge plays a Sunday concert at London's Saville Theatre on October 22. They will occupy the whole first half of the show, with the Who featured throughout the second half. The group also plays London's Spexbury on October 19, and other London club dates are being lined-up — as well as concerts in Sweden, France and

The Mamas and Papas-Santi McKenzies concert at London's Royal Albert Hall originally planned by Berns for November 1 has been brought forward to Monday, October 30. It is still probable that they will play a second date at this venue later this same week, but the plan to visit Manchester has now been scrapped.

The American stars flew that week to London where Mackenzie is making promotion appearances. The Mammas and Pappas then traveled to North Africa for a few days, while Scott will remain there, before they all go to South America.

Phil Spector on murder charge

From James Bone in New York

PHIL SPECTOR, the record producer whose distinctive "wall of sound" transformed Sixties pop music, was charged with murder yesterday over the death of a B-movie actress at his California mansion.

Lana Clarkson, the star of Roger Corman's cult classic Barbara, was found dead in the entrance of Mr Spector's home in the Los Angeles suburb of Alhambra on February 3.

The actress died of a single bullet wound to the head and neck. In an interview with Esquire magazine in July, Mr Spector, 62, suggested that Ms Clarkson, 40, had killed herself.

"She kissed the gun. I have no idea why," he said. "I never knew her, never even saw her before that night." He said he did not witness the shooting, but went to the entrance where Ms Clarkson's body was found after he heard a shot. He said he called police himself.

Mr Spector said that Ms Clarkson was "loud and drunk" before they left the club where she worked.

We have asked you to write to us regarding the Christmas Party we are organising for Ooroon at the Albert Hall on December 19th and for which we are booking the Bonzo Dog Doo Dah Band.

As you can see from the enclosed invitation, tickets can be ordered from Ooroon only. These invitations have been mailed to a selected group of people (we did want to avoid an Alexandra Palace reference) 5,000 invitations in total. To date, nearly all the boxes have been sold as well as some of the 12 tickets. The remaining tickets are being sold through Ooroon to Ooroon customers and we are displaying 500 posters printed with the following text, for display in the King's Road area:

OORON and PARADISE present their Christmas Party '68 on December 19th at 8 p.m. at the Albert Hall with Julie Driscoll, Brian Auger and The Trinity and friends. Everybody must bring a Children's Christmas Present for Everybody's Fund. Tickets available at Ooroon, 32 Radnor Walk, S.W.3.

I shall be writing to you within the next ten days regarding the running order of the evening, but it looks as if the Bonzo Dog Doo Dah Band would be on at approximately 9 p.m.

I hope that you approve of the above text for the poster. I think it is the best way to do it, as we would have to list all the other artists appearing, which would make it enormous.

Kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

MARSHALL HINDS.

Bonzo Dog Doo Dah Band get the party started in 1968.

MACCA'S NIGHT OF MAGIC AT BEATLES' CAVERN

By IAN MILNER
McCartney rocked back yesterday's last night for a final night at the club where the Beatles legend was born. The Cavern has hosted more than 40 years for Macca, in some back to back gigs, but this was a special occasion. The Beatles' 40th anniversary was celebrated with a special concert. Paul McCartney was the main attraction. He was joined by his band, The Paul McCartney Band, and a special guest, Ringo Starr. The concert was a huge success, with Paul McCartney selling out the Cavern in less than an hour. The concert was a fitting end to Paul McCartney's long association with the Cavern Club.

STAR: Fans watch on a giant screen
The show was a free internet live stream. The Cavern Club was packed with fans. The concert was a huge success, with Paul McCartney selling out the Cavern in less than an hour. The concert was a fitting end to Paul McCartney's long association with the Cavern Club.
